SOCIETY

Book Lovers Club.

Mrs. D. L. King was the gracious hostess of a pleasurable entertainment given Thursday afternoon of last week to the members of the Book Lovers Club and supplementary guest list. The out-of-town guests included Mrs. Downing, of Scottsville, Ky., Miss Schorn, of Nashville, and Miss Juddie Wells, of Martin.

Mrs. King was assisted in receiving by Mrs. W. E. Townes, and Misses Louise McCall and Christine Priest served punch.

The reception and dining rooms were quite attractive with their decorations in white and yellow, the colors of the club. The main feature of the afternoon was a contest on Clubs, honors being won by Mrs. M. E. Priest and Miss Love Hawkins, the former receiving a hand-painted china vase and the latter silk hose.

A delicious two-course menu was daintily served.

Complimentary Entertainment.

Mrs. Bruce Cooper entertained charmingly with a charade party, in the parlors of Hotel Olive, Wednesday night of last week, in honor of her house guest, Miss Verna Scruggs, of Gibson. Receiving with the hostess and honoree was Miss Ernestine Norman. Miss Elah Sanders presided at the punch table.

The parlors were bright with cut flowers and ferns.

The charades were acted by Mrs. Taylor and Miss Ernestine Norman, and Mrs. O. C. Tidwell kept score. Miss Olive Wright won the prize, a box of stationery, and presented it to the honoree.

Music was furnished by Mrs. K. G. Priest, Miss Ruth Ownby, Dick Payne and Conway Jenkins. Refreshments were served by Misses Ida and Mary Box.

Delta Theta Epsilon.

On last Friday evening Miss Ernestine Norman was the charming hostess of the Delta Theta Epsilon Club and a number of invited guests. She was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. E. M. Norman, and her home guest, Miss Verna Scruggs, of Gibson.

The reception rooms were decorated with a wealth of flowers and Miss Christine Priest served punch from an alcove in the hall. In the dining room, where Mesdames O. C. Tidwell and Bruce Cooper presided, the central ornament of the table was a miniature lake with a ship sailing on it. A delicious two-course menu was served, the club colors, emerald and white, were emphasized in the ices. Small ships were given as favors.

At the conclusion of the interesting contest on "Tennessee," the prizes, two handsome jardiniere, were presented Misses Jessie Hubbard and Love Hawkins.

The next meeting will be with Miss Mary Box at Hotel Olive, Friday evening, May 31, 1912.

Miss Verder Parker, of Martin, came up last Sunday and spent the day with Miss Charlie Carnes Hilliard. She left Sunday night with Miss Hattie Mai Anderson for Cincinnati to enter the conservatory of music.

Good crowds have attended and much interest taken in the work done. The Bethel school has been well attended this year and results have been very satisfactory.

The funeral services of S. J. Sedberry was preached Thursday of last week at Buena Vista by Rev. R. M. Walker, of Lexington, a large crowd being present. Mr. Sedberry was a very popular man in his community, always ready to help the needy, wait upon the sick and extend a charitable hand, and much sorrow was manifested at the grave over his death. A number of parties attended the funeral from the community of Huntingdon.

Mrs. R. A. Clopton, of Milan, is visiting B. N. Jamison and wife. W. B. Grizzard and Ben H. Jamison spent Tuesday with William Johnson in Clarksburg.

Mrs. W. E. Downing, after spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. T. M. Harwell, has returned to her home in Scottsville, Ky. She was accompanied by Miss Erin Hilliard and little Miss Eleanor Harwell.

The editor and wife had the pleasure, Thursday night of last week, of attending the public debate between the Dewey and Harrison literary societies of McTyeire school at McKenzie. The debate was on the relative merits of the American and English government. Each society had two representatives. The Dewey representatives championed the American government while the Harrison boys defended the English form. The boys had fine speeches and delivered them well. The Harrison society won the decision. A large crowd was in attendance and the very best of order prevailed. McTyeire is a fine school and does most excellent work.
